

Proactive, policy-based security from two industry leaders

iManage and Workshare are coming together to provide the legal enterprise with a new approach to protecting client data. Law firms can now get the first proactive, policy-based solution for document and email security.

Security across the legal enterprise

Be proactive with data security – make iManage and Workshare part of your data loss prevention strategy.

Designed to accurately identify areas of high-risk threat, and to reduce exposure to high-cost data loss, you can be confident of meeting outside counsel guidelines and client audit.

Data loss prevention and risk management

This new integration allows the Legal CISO to reduce data loss around the reviewing and sharing of legal work product across any platform, including email, based on their firm's policies and specific client requirements.

It also enables accurate investigation of potential threats to security from internal or external “bad actors”.

Policy-driven protection and reporting is applied across the document lifecycle and IT infrastructure. Together iManage and Workshare ensure matter files are always protected and the threat of data loss is reduced.
