The iManage Knowledge Work Platform

The AI-enabled iManage knowledge work platform empowers knowledge workers to collaborate safely and securely and be productive from anywhere, on any device. The platform protects valuable information with robust data protection and end-to-end security that governs the platform, people, and content. The iManage platform is built on modern, cloud-native architecture that enables users to leverage the latest technologies.

iManage Work leverages AI to boost productivity, improve work, and reduce risk

AI applications automate content workflows, eliminate manual tasks, and enhance search capabilities, enabling teams to collaborate more effectively. iManage AI helps users access, reuse, and share knowledge more efficiently, allowing organizations to focus on high-value activities. Built-in security and governance ensure data remains protected while enabling organizations to confidently leverage their knowledge assets to drive performance.

Industry-leading security iManage Work delivers market-leading security protections for all information assets. Security is set by project and automatically applied across all documents or email. All information is encrypted to ensure the highest levels of protection and compliance with regulatory policies. All iManage products are designed to provide comprehensive, pervasive, and unobtrusive security and governance.

Work in Microsoft Office and Outlook

iManage Work is seamlessly integrated with the tools professionals use every day. Documents are saved directly into iManage Work with the Save icon in Microsoft Office, and the system automatically suggests filing locations for emails and saves them with a single click.

Manage content and communications together iManage Work consolidates emails, chats, and documents into a single project file or workspace, so all relevant materials are saved and accessible. This integrated approach ensures that important information that would typically be locked away is now shared in a secure and governed location.

Intuitive visual dashboards and timelines enhance productivity.

Smart features help professionals be more productive iManage Work 10 delivers a number of smart features that anticipate user needs and enable them to work intuitively and productively. iManage Work displays document history in visual dashboards and Facebook-like timelines, so users can identify changes at a glance. It analyzes and predicts user actions, with smart document previews, suggested filing locations, and flexible work folders.
