

iManage Next Generation Co-authoring

Transforming collaboration

In today's fast-paced environment, seamless collaboration is key. iManage Next Generation Co-authoring empowers knowledge professionals to work together efficiently – whether in real time or on their own schedule – without the fear of losing edits or manually saving work. With deep integration into Microsoft tools, iManage is setting a new standard for document collaboration.

Key features & benefits

Real-time collaboration: Work simultaneously with colleagues on the same document, seeing changes as they happen. All contributions are captured instantly, enhancing efficiency and reducing duplication of efforts.

Work at your own pace: Whether you're in a meeting, on a call, or stepping away from your desk, your work is automatically saved. Pick up right where you left off without worrying about lost edits.

Auto-save for peace of mind: Eliminate the need to manually save your work. Auto-save ensures that every change is securely stored, allowing you to focus on your tasks without interruption.

Seamless user experience: No need to learn new tools. iManage Next Generation Co-authoring integrates seamlessly with the familiar Microsoft environment, letting knowledge professionals work with the features they already know and trust.

Revision management, not just version control: Revisions should never be a mystery. The iManage document timeline provides real-time access to recent revisions, offering clear visibility into who made what changes.

Exclusive CSPP+ integration: iManage is one of the first to bring this advanced Microsoft integration to market, reinforcing our commitment to innovation and technology leadership.

Seamless collaboration. Total control. Maximum productivity.

With iManage Co-authoring, professionals can work smarter, collaborate seamlessly, and maintain full control over their documents. Whether working synchronously or asynchronously, knowledge professionals can trust iManage to keep their workflow uninterrupted and their documents secure. Say goodbye to version confusion and lost edits – embrace the future of collaboration today.
